Title IX: Policy Against Sexual Misconduct

At Fuller Theological Seminary we believe that men and women of God are suited for Christian service by moral character as well as by academic achievement and spiritual gifts. Among their qualifications should be compassion for individual persons, sensitivity to the needs of the communities of which they are a part, a commitment to justice, a burden that the whole of God’s will be obeyed on earth, personal integrity, a desire for moral growth, and mutual accountability. Students and employees at Fuller Theological Seminary are expected to exhibit these moral characteristics.

The behavioral standards of Fuller Theological Seminary are guided by an understanding of Scripture and a commitment to its authority regarding all matters of Christian faith and living. The seminary community also desires to honor and respect the moral tradition of the churches who entrust students to us for education. These moral standards encompass every area of life, but prevailing confusion about specific areas leads the community to speak clearly about them. Students receiving training in a discipline for which there are professional ethical standards are subject to those as well. Enrollment in or employment by Fuller Theological Seminary includes a commitment by each individual to adhere to all of the seminary’s published policies and ethical and behavioral standards. These Community Standards may be found at http://www.fuller.edu/About/Mission-and-Values/Community-Standards/.

As an educational institution, Fuller Theological Seminary also recognizes its legal obligations in regard to Title IX, the Campus Sexual Violence Elimination Act, and the Clery Act.

Applicable Federal Law

This policy of Fuller Theological Seminary (“Seminary”) addresses the requirements of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (“Title IX”), a federal law prohibiting discrimination based on gender in federally-funded education programs and activities. Title IX states as follows:

No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance.

Programs and activities that may be included are admissions, recruitment, financial aid, academic programs, athletics, housing, and employment. Title IX also protects men and women from unlawful sexual harassment in school programs and activities. Under Title IX, discrimination on the basis of sex can include sex discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual assault, sexual violence, and sexual exploitation (as those terms are defined below). Title IX prohibits sex discrimination in both the educational and employment settings.
This policy also addresses the requirements of the Campus Sexual Violence Elimination Act, or Campus SaVE Act (SaVE), a 2013 amendment to the federal Jeanne Clery Act. The SaVE Act addresses sexual violence in the form of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. For the purpose of this policy and the seminary’s handling of such matters, “Title IX” includes the concerns of the Campus SaVE Act.

Other forms of harassment and discrimination not of a sexual nature will be dealt with under other seminary policies including, but not limited to, Community Standard: Respect for People and Property; Community Standard: Policy Against Unlawful Discrimination; Policy Against All Forms of Unlawful Harassment in the Workplace; and Policy Against Retaliation.

Policy

Fuller Theological Seminary is committed to providing and modeling a learning, working, living, and community environment free of discrimination on the basis of sex, which includes all forms of sexual misconduct. Sexual misconduct includes sex discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual assault, and all forms of sexual violence. Sexual misconduct can be committed by men or women and it can occur between people of the same or different sex. The seminary considers sexual misconduct in any form to be a serious violation of the Christ-like conduct expected from all members of its community. This policy applies to any on-campus conduct and any off-campus conduct that affects the learning experience of students or working experience of employees or the campus climate. This policy applies to all seminary students, faculty, administrators, and staff, to other members of the seminary community, and to contractors, consultants, and vendors doing business or providing services to the seminary. Violation of the policy against sexual misconduct will result in disciplinary actions, which could include, but is not limited to, probationary status, academic suspension or expulsion, termination of residential lease, or employment suspension or termination. Seminary discipline is in addition to penalties that may be imposed by state or federal law, which could include imprisonment or financial fines.

Sexual Misconduct Definition

1. Sex Discrimination is

   a. Making a distinction in favor of, or against, a person on the basis of sex rather than on individual merit
   b. In an educational setting, making a distinction on the basis of sex that deprives a person of the ability to participate in or benefit from the seminary’s education program or activities

2. Sexual Harassment is:
Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal, visual, or physical conduct based on sex or of a sexual nature, up to and including sexual assault, constitute sexual harassment when one or more of the following apply¹:

1. submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of instruction, employment, or participation in other seminary activity;
2. submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as a basis for evaluation in making any academic or employment decision affecting that individual;
3. such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual’s performance or participation in instructional, employment-related, or other seminary activity; or
4. such conduct has the purpose or effect of creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive academic or work environment from the standpoint of a reasonable person of the same sex as the individual affected.

Examples of sexual harassment include, but are not limited to, unwelcome sexual advances, repeated propositions or requests for a sexual relationship to an individual who has previously indicated that such conduct is unwelcome, or sexual gestures, noises, remarks, jokes, questions, or comments about a person’s gender, sexuality or sexual experience. Sexual harassment may consist of repeated actions or may even arise from a single incident if sufficiently extreme. The complainant and the respondent (the person alleged to have committed the misconduct) may be of either gender and need not be of different genders.

3. Sexual Assault/Sexual Violence is

A particular type of sexual harassment that includes non-consensual sexual contact, non-consensual sexual intercourse, rape, or other physical sexual acts perpetrated against a person’s will or where a person is incapable of giving consent. Sexual assault/sexual violence includes, but is not limited to, physical assaults of a sexual nature, such as rape, sexual assault, sexual battery, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or attempts to commit these acts.¹

Non-Consensual Sexual Intercourse is:

- any sexual penetration or intercourse (anal, oral or vaginal),
- however slight,
- with any object,
- by a person upon another person,
- that is without consent and/or by force.

¹ The harassing conduct based on sex or gender must also be sufficiently severe, pervasive or persistent, or objectively offensive to be considered sexual harassment.
Note: “Sexual intercourse” includes vaginal or anal penetration by a penis, object, tongue, or finger, and oral copulation (mouth to genital contact or genital to mouth contact), no matter how slight the penetration or contact.

Non-Consensual Sexual Contact is:

- any intentional sexual touching,
- however slight,
- with any object,
- by a person upon another person
- that is without consent and/or by force.

Note: “Sexual contact” includes intentional contact with the breasts, buttock, groin, or genitals, or touching another with any of these body parts, or making another touch you or themselves with or on any of these body parts; or any other intentional bodily contact of a sexual manner, including the nonconsensual touching of a person’s intimate parts, or the clothes covering the immediate area of those parts, or forcing a person to touch another’s intimate parts.

4. Sexual Exploitation

Refers to a situation in which a person takes non-consensual or abusive sexual advantage of another, and situations in which the conduct does not fall within the definitions of Sexual Harassment, Non-Consensual Sexual Intercourse or Non-Consensual Sexual Contact.

Examples of sexual exploitation include, but are not limited to:

- Invasion of sexual privacy,
- Prostituting another student,
- Non-consensual recording, broadcasting sexual activity, including redistribution of pictures, video, or audio,
- Going beyond the boundaries of consent (such as letting your friends hide in the closet to watch you having consensual sex),
- Engaging in voyeurism,
- Knowingly exposing another to an STD or HIV,
- Exposing one’s genitals in non-consensual circumstances or inducing another to expose their genitals,
- Sexually based stalking and/or bullying, including cyber-stalking and/or cyber-bullying, may also be forms of sexual exploitation.

5. Statement on Consent:

a. Consent is knowing, voluntary, and clear permission by word or action, to engage in mutually agreed upon sexual activity. Since individuals may experience the same interaction in different ways, it is the responsibility of each party to make certain that the other has consented before engaging in the activity. For consent to be valid there must be a clear expression in words or actions that the other individual agreed to that specific sexual conduct.

b. A person cannot consent if he or she is unable to understand what is happening or is disoriented, helpless, asleep, or unconscious for any reason, including due to alcohol or other drugs, including so-called “date rape” drugs. An individual who engages in sexual activity when the individual knows, or should know, that the other person is physically or mentally incapacitated has violated this policy.

c. Incapacitation is defined as a state where someone cannot make rational, reasonable decisions because they lack the capacity to give knowing consent (e.g., to understand the “who, what, when, where, why or how” of their sexual interaction). This policy also covers a person whose incapacity results from a mental or developmental disability, involuntary physical restraint, and/or from the taking of incapacitating drugs.

d. Consent to some sexual contact (such as kissing or fondling) cannot be presumed to be consent for other sexual activity (such as intercourse). A current or previous dating relationship is not sufficient to constitute consent. Silence or the absence of resistance alone is not consent.

e. A person can withdraw consent at any time during sexual activity by expressing in words or actions that he or she no longer wants the act to continue, and, if that happens, the other person must stop immediately.

f. A minor below the age of consent according to state law cannot consent to sexual activity. This means that sexual contact by an adult with a person below the age of consent is a crime as well as a violation of this policy, even if the minor appeared to have wanted to engage in the act.

6. Statement on Force:

a. Force is the use of physical violence and/or imposing on someone physically to gain sexual access. Force also includes threats, intimidation (implied threats) and coercion that overcome resistance or produce consent (“Have sex with me or I’ll hit you. Okay, don’t hit me; I’ll do what you want.”)

b. Coercion is unreasonable pressure for sexual activity. Coercive behavior differs from seductive behavior based on the type of pressure someone uses to get consent from another. When someone makes clear to you that they do not want to go past a certain point of sexual interaction, continued pressure beyond that point can be coercive.

Fuller Theological Seminary believes that sexual union must be reserved for marriage, which is the covenant union between one man and one woman, and that sexual abstinence is required for the unmarried. The seminary believes premarital, extramarital, and homosexual forms of explicit sexual conduct to be inconsistent with the teaching of Scripture. Consequently, the seminary expects all members of its community--students, faculty, administrators/managers, staff, and trustees—to abstain from what it holds to be unbiblical sexual practices (Fuller Theological Seminary Community Standard: Sexual Standards).

In deciding whether or not to report sexual assault or misconduct, an alleged victim might have concern about the context of the assault or misconduct. Specifically, a person might be concerned that his or her behavior violated seminary community standards (e.g., by drug or alcohol use), and thus hesitate to report the assault or misconduct. It is the seminary position that the seriousness of sexual misconduct or assault report will be the focus of the investigation and any disciplinary action.

Guidance on Reporting

Fuller Theological Seminary encourages those who have experienced any form of sex discrimination/sexual misconduct to report the incident promptly, to seek all available assistance, and to pursue seminary conduct violation charges and criminal prosecution of the offender. Fuller takes complaints very seriously and will work with victims to ensure their safety as much as possible and to remedy the situation. The seminary will fully cooperate with the police in any related investigation and reserves the right to commence its internal complaint resolution procedures prior to the completion of any police investigation.

Complaints may be filed with a Title IX Coordinator, the Title IX Administrator, or any seminary employee identified as a mandatory reporter. All sexual misconduct complaints made to mandatory reporters will be reported to the Title IX Administrator or a Title IX Coordinator.

Complaint Resolution Procedure

All incidents of sex discrimination, including sexual misconduct or retaliation, should be reported. The Title IX Administrator will provide for the adequate, reliable, and impartial investigation of all complaints.

Title IX Administrator and Title IX Coordinators

The Title IX Administrator and Title IX Coordinators are the individuals designated by the Provost with responsibility for providing education and training about discrimination, harassment, and sexual misconduct to the seminary community and for receiving and investigating reports and complaints of discrimination, harassment, and sexual misconduct in accordance with this policy. The Title IX Administrator is authorized to designate other appropriately trained individuals to receive and investigate reports and complaints of discrimination, harassment, and sexual misconduct as deemed appropriate at his/her sole discretion. Questions about Title IX can be directed to the Title IX Administrator or to the Office of Civil Rights (OCR, http://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/index.html) of the U.S. Department of Education.

Non-Mandatory Reporters

Students, faculty, and staff may wish to seek confidential assistance in dealing with a Title IX violation. The seminary has identified the following employees who will maintain confidentiality under the professional license or professional ethics necessary for performing their employed role at the seminary:

Irene Rapp, MS, LMFT
Director of Training
Fuller Psychological and Family Services (FPFS)

Interim Protective Measures

The seminary reserves the right, at the direction of the provost or his/her designee, to suspend or place on immediate administrative leave any member of the campus community accused of violating this policy, or to take any other interim measures the seminary deems appropriate, pending the outcome of an investigation and/or disciplinary proceedings. Such interim measures can include, but are not limited to, placing an employee on paid or unpaid administrative leave, removing a student from campus housing and/or current classes, modifying course schedules, and issuing a “no contact” order, among many other remedies.

Retaliation Prohibited

Fear of retaliation should not hinder the reporting of an alleged violation(s) of sexual misconduct. The seminary strictly prohibits retaliation against a member of the Fuller community who opposes the practices prohibited by this policy against sexual misconduct, who brings forth a complaint, against whom a complaint is brought, or who otherwise is a participant in a complaint resolution process. Such prohibited retaliatory conduct includes, but is not limited to, reducing a student's grade, decreasing an employee's pay, or downgrading a person's performance evaluation. Retaliatory conduct will be considered a violation of seminary policy, and anyone who violates this policy against retaliation will be independently disciplined by the seminary, up to and including possible termination of student status (expulsion) and/or termination from employment.

This policy against retaliation applies to all members of the seminary community, including students, authorized student organizations, faculty, administrators/managers, staff-level employees, and trustees. This policy may also be applicable to complaints deemed to have been submitted without merit and for a retaliatory purpose.

Investigation/Procedures

The Community Standard Complaint Resolution Procedures: Sexual Harassment, Unlawful Discrimination, Unlawful Harassment, Sexual Misconduct, and Retaliation will be followed with the following additional provisions:
1. The investigation of a sexual misconduct allegation may proceed whether or not a related criminal matter is pending.
2. In accordance with federal regulations, Fuller will complete investigations within a 60-day time period.
3. Both parties will be provided periodic updates during the complaint resolution process.
4. Both parties will be advised in writing of the outcome of a complaint, at the same time, once a decision has been reached.
5. Allegations of sexual assault will not be resolved by mediation.
6. The standard used to determine whether this policy has been violated is whether it is more likely than not that the respondent violated this policy. This is often referred to as a “Preponderance of Evidence” standard.
7. Both parties may have an advisor of their choice present during the investigation process.

The state-specific, criminal law definitions of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking follow:

California

- Sexual Assault Defined

  California’s criminal law does not define sexual assault, as such. Rather, California has defined many separate sex crimes such as unlawful sexual penetration, rape and sexual battery.

- Sexual Battery

  Generally, sexual battery consists of unlawfully touching the intimate part of another person’s body. “Intimate part” means the sexual organ, anus, groin or buttocks of any person, and the breast of a female. Sexual battery occurs when any of the following circumstances exist:
1. Any person touches an intimate part of another person while that person is unlawfully restrained when the touching is against the will of the person touched and is for the purpose of sexual arousal, sexual gratification or sexual abuse.

2. Any person touches an intimate part of another person who is institutionalized for medical treatment and who is seriously disabled or medically incapacitated when the touching is against the will of the person touched, and if the touching is for the purpose of sexual arousal, sexual gratification or sexual abuse, is guilty of sexual battery.

3. Any person touches an intimate part of another person for the purpose of sexual arousal, sexual gratification or sexual abuse, and the victim is at the time unconscious of the nature of the act because the perpetrator fraudulently represented that the touching served a professional purpose.

4. Any person who, for the purpose of sexual arousal, sexual gratification or sexual abuse, causes another, against that person's will while that person is unlawfully restrained either by the accused or an accomplice, or is institutionalized for medical treatment and is seriously disabled or medically incapacitated, to masturbate or touch an intimate part of either of those persons or a third person, is guilty of sexual battery.

5. Any person touches an intimate part of another person, if the touching is against the will of the person touched, and is for the specific purpose of sexual arousal, sexual gratification or sexual abuse.

- Unlawful Sexual Penetration

Sexual penetration is the act of causing the penetration, however slight, of the genital or anal opening of any person or causing another person to so penetrate the defendant's or another person's genital or anal opening for the purpose of sexual arousal, gratification or abuse by any foreign object, substance, instrument or device, or by any unknown object.

Any person who commits an act of sexual penetration is guilty of a crime under the following circumstances:

1. When the act is accomplished against the victim's will by means of force, violence, duress, menace or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person.

2. When the act is accomplished against a victim who is at the time incapable, because of a mental disorder or developmental or physical disability, of giving legal consent, and this is known or reasonably should be known to the person committing the act or causing the act to be committed.

3. When the act is accomplished against a victim who is at the time unconscious of the nature of the act and this is known to the person committing the act or causing the act to be committed. “Unconscious of the nature of the act” means incapable of resisting because the victim meets one of the following conditions:
   1. Was unconscious or asleep.
   2. Was not aware, knowing, perceiving or cognizant that the act occurred.
3. Was not aware, knowing, perceiving or cognizant of the essential characteristics of the act due to the perpetrator's fraud in fact.
4. Was not aware, knowing, perceiving or cognizant of the essential characteristics of the act due to the perpetrator's fraudulent representation that the sexual penetration served a professional purpose when it served no professional purpose.

4. When the act is accomplished against a victim when the victim is prevented from resisting by any intoxicating or anesthetic substance, or any controlled substance, and this condition was known, or reasonably should have been known by the accused.
5. When the act is accomplished against a victim who submits under the belief that the person committing the act or causing the act to be committed is someone known to the victim other than the accused and this belief is induced by any artifice, pretense or concealment practiced by the accused, with intent to induce the belief.
6. When the act is accomplished against the victim's will by threatening to use the authority of a public official to incarcerate, arrest or deport the victim or another, and the victim has a reasonable belief that the perpetrator is a public official.
7. When the act is accomplished with another person who is under 18 years of age.

- Rape

Rape is an act of sexual intercourse accomplished with a person, under any of the following circumstances:

1. Where a person is incapable, because of a mental disorder or developmental or physical disability, of giving legal consent, and this is known or reasonably should be known to the person committing the act. This provision does not apply when the victim and perpetrator are spouses.
2. Where it is accomplished against a person's will by means of force, violence, duress, menace or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the person or another.
3. Where a person is prevented from resisting by any intoxicating or anesthetic substance, or any controlled substance, and this condition was known, or reasonably should have been known by the accused.
4. Where a person is at the time unconscious of the nature of the act, and this is known to the accused. “Unconscious of the nature of the act” means incapable of resisting because the victim meets any one of the following conditions:
   1. Was unconscious or asleep.
   2. Was not aware, knowing, perceiving or cognizant that the act occurred.
   3. Was not aware, knowing, perceiving or cognizant of the essential characteristics of the act due to the perpetrator's fraud in fact.
   4. Was not aware, knowing, perceiving or cognizant of the essential characteristics of the act due to the perpetrator's fraudulent representation that the sexual penetration served a professional purpose when it served no professional purpose.
professional purpose. This provision does not apply when the victim and the spouse are married.

5. Where a person submits under the belief that the person committing the act is someone known to the victim other than the accused, and this belief is induced by any artifice, pretense or concealment practiced by the accused, with intent to induce the belief. This provision does not apply if the victim and perpetrator are spouses.

6. Where the act is accomplished against the victim's will by threatening to retaliate in the future against the victim or any other person, and there is a reasonable possibility that the perpetrator will execute the threat. “Threatening to retaliate” means a threat to kidnap or falsely imprison, or to inflict extreme pain, serious bodily injury or death.

7. Where the act is accomplished against the victim's will by threatening to use the authority of a public official to incarcerate, arrest or deport the victim or another, and the victim has a reasonable belief that the perpetrator is a public official. The perpetrator does not actually have to be a public official.

- Unlawful Oral Copulation

Oral copulation is the act of copulating the mouth of one person with the sexual organ or anus of another person. It is a crime under the following circumstances:

1. The act of oral copulation is with another person who is under 18 years of age.

3. When the act is accomplished against the victim's will by means of force or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury on the victim or another person.
4. Where the victim is at the time of the act incapable, because of a mental disorder or developmental or physical disability, of giving legal consent, and this is known or reasonably should be known to the person committing the act.
5. The act is accomplished while confined in any state prison.
6. The victim is at the time unconscious of the nature of the act and this is known to the person committing the act. “Unconscious of the nature of the act” means incapable of resisting because the victim meets one of the following conditions:
   1. Was unconscious or asleep.
   2. Was not aware, knowing, perceiving or cognizant that the act occurred.
   3. Was not aware, knowing, perceiving or cognizant of the essential characteristics of the act due to the perpetrator's fraud in fact.
   4. Was not aware, knowing, perceiving or cognizant of the essential characteristics of the act due to the perpetrator's fraudulent representation that the oral copulation served a professional purpose when it served no professional purpose.
7. The victim is at the time incapable, because of a mental disorder or developmental or physical disability, of giving legal consent, and this is known or reasonably should be known to the person committing the act.
8. The victim is at the time incapable, because of a mental disorder or developmental or physical disability, of giving legal consent, and this is known or reasonably should be known to the person committing the act, and both the defendant and the victim are at the time confined in a state hospital for the care and treatment of the mentally disordered or in any other public or private facility for the care and treatment of the mentally disordered.

9. The victim is prevented from resisting by any intoxicating or anesthetic substance, or any controlled substance, and this condition was known, or reasonably should have been known by the accused.

10. The victim submits under the belief that the person committing the act someone known to the victim other than the accused, and this belief is induced by any artifice, pretense or concealment practiced by the accused.

11. Where the act is accomplished against the victim's will by threatening to use the authority of a public official to incarcerate, arrest or deport the victim or another, and the victim has a reasonable belief that the perpetrator is a public official.

- Unlawful Sexual Intercourse with a Person Under 18

  Unlawful sexual intercourse is an act of sexual intercourse accomplished with a person who is not the spouse of the perpetrator, if the person is a minor. A “minor” is a person under the age of 18 years and an “adult” is a person who is at least 18 years of age.

- Sodomy

  Sodomy is sexual conduct consisting of contact between the penis of one person and the anus of another person. Any sexual penetration, however slight, is sufficient to complete the act of sodomy. Sodomy is a crime when the act is accomplished upon a person under the age of 18 or when it is accomplished against the victim's will by means of force, violence, duress, menace or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury.

California

- Dating Violence Defined

  California law does not define the term dating violence as such. However, violence between intimate or dating partners is a form of domestic violence.

  A dating relationship means a serious courtship; it is a social relationship between two individuals who have or have had a reciprocally amorous and increasingly exclusive interest in one another, and shared expectation of the growth of that mutual interest, that has endured for such a length of time and stimulated such frequent interactions that the relationship cannot be deemed to have been casual.

- Sexual Assault Defined

Sexual assault is not specifically defined separately under Washington Law, however, the following Washington definitions are generally included under the umbrella term 'sexual assault.'

- Rape

A person is guilty of rape when such person engages in sexual intercourse with another person by forcible compulsion where the perpetrator or an accessory uses or threatens to use a deadly weapon or what appears to be a deadly weapon; or kidnaps the victim; or inflicts serious physical injury; or feloniously enters into the building or vehicle where the victim is situated.

Rape includes when the person engages in sexual intercourse by forcible compulsion, the victim is incapable of consent due to physical helplessness or mental incapacity, or the victim is a person with a developmental disability and the perpetrator is a person who is not married to the victim and who has supervisory authority over the victim; or was providing transportation, within the course of his or her employment, to the victim at the time of the offense.

Rape includes when the perpetrator is a health care provider, the victim is a client or patient, and the sexual intercourse occurs during a treatment session, consultation, interview, or examination (unless the client or patient consented to the sexual intercourse with the knowledge that the sexual intercourse was not for the purpose of treatment).

Rape also applies when the victim is a resident of a facility for persons with a mental disorder or chemical dependency and the perpetrator is a person who is not married to the victim and has supervisory authority over the victim. There are also special provisions when the victim is a frail elder or vulnerable adult.
Rape also occurs when such person engages in sexual intercourse and the victim’s lack of consent was clearly expressed by the victim's words or conduct or the victim engaged in sexual intercourse because of a threat of substantial unlawful harm to his or her property rights.

The State of Washington makes Indecent Liberties a crime similar to rape, but the focus is on unlawful sexual contact rather than sexual intercourse.

Rape of Children is a crime that makes it unlawful to have sexual intercourse with children less than sixteen years of age in a variety of circumstances.

When determining the existence of such a relationship in Arizona, the following factors may be important:

1. the length of the relationship,
2. the type of relationship,
3. the frequency of interaction between the people involved in the relationship, and
4. if the relationship has terminated, the length of time since termination.

Domestic violence also includes any other crime against a person, or against property, including an animal, or any municipal ordinance violation against a person, or against property, including an animal, when used as a method of coercion, control, punishment, intimidation, or revenge directed against a person with whom the actor is or has been involved in a dating relationship.

END NOTE 2

The state-specific, criminal law definitions of consent follow:

California

- Consent Defined

  In California, under Senate Bill 967 as of January 1, 2015, consent means affirmative consent. Affirmative consent means affirmative, conscious and voluntary agreement to engage in sexual activity. It is the responsibility of each person involved in the sexual activity to ensure that he or she has the affirmative consent of the other, or others, to engage in the sexual activity.

  - Lack of protest is not the same as consent.
  - Lack of resistance is not the same as consent.
  - Silence is not the same as consent.

  Affirmative consent must be ongoing throughout a sexual activity. Affirmative consent can be revoked (taken back) at any time, including during a sexual encounter.

  The existence of a dating relationship between the persons involved, or the fact of past sexual relations between them, should never by itself be assumed to be an indicator of consent.
Affirmative consent does not exist if a person engages in sexual contact when the other person is:

1. Asleep or unconscious.
2. Incapacitated due to the influence of drugs, alcohol, or medication, so that the other person could not understand the fact, nature or extent of the sexual activity.
3. Unable to communicate due to a mental or physical condition.

Washington

- Consent Defined

Consent means that at the time of a sexual act, there are actual words or conduct indicating freely given agreement to such an act. Generally, consent is a defense to a charge of sexual assault. Accordingly and as a general matter, if sexual conduct is consensual, it is not a sexual assault to engage in such conduct. However, when a person is incapable of giving consent (either because of age or incapacity), consent is not a valid defense.

Arizona

- Consent Defined

The Arizona Supreme Court noted that “consent” should be assessed according to its ordinary and plain meaning, which has been interpreted as a “willingness in fact for [sexual] conduct to occur.” In reference to sexual assault, examples of what constitute sexual conduct that is “without consent” include (but are not limited to):

1. Coercion by the immediate use or threatened use of force.
2. When the victim is incapable of consent by reason of mental disorder, mental defect drugs, alcohol, sleep or any other similar impairment of cognition and such condition is known (or should have reasonably been known).
3. The victim is intentionally deceived as to the nature of the act.
4. The victim is intentionally deceived to erroneously believe that the person is the victim's spouse.

Colorado

- Consent Defined

Consent means cooperation in act or attitude pursuant to an exercise of free will and with knowledge of the nature of the act. A current or previous relationship is not sufficient to constitute consent. Submission under the influence of fear does not constitute consent.

Texas

- Consent Defined
Consent means assent in fact, whether express or apparent. In any event, if there is no assent in fact, there can be no consent. Also, consent is not effective if it is induced by force, threat, or fraud; or if given by a person who by reason of youth, mental disease or defect, or intoxication is known by the actor to be unable to make reasonable decisions. Also, consent is not effective where the victim is a minor.

In addition, the following list of conduct satisfies the “without the consent” requirement of sexual assault:

1. The other person has not consented and the actor knows the other person is unconscious or physically unable to resist;
2. The other person has not consented and the actor knows the other person is unaware that the sexual assault is occurring;
3. The actor is a public servant who coerces the other person to submit or participate;
4. The actor is a mental health services provider or a health care services provider who causes the other person, who is a patient or former patient of the actor, to submit or participate by exploiting the other person's emotional dependency on the actor;
5. The actor is a clergyman who causes the other person to submit or participate by exploiting the other person's emotional dependency on the clergyman in the clergyman's professional character as spiritual adviser; or
6. The actor is an employee of a facility where the other person is a resident (unless the employee and resident are formally or informally married).
