Biographical Information

DR. JUDITH K. BALSWICK

Senior Professor, School of Psychology, Fuller Theological Seminary.

Education

M.A. University of Iowa, 1963, Major: Rehabilitation Counseling
Ed.D. University of Georgia, 1977, Major: Counseling and Human Development
Dissertation: The Relationship Between Developmental Task Achievement and Marital Adjustment in College Students

Experience

CAMFT Certified Supervisor; AAMFT Approved Supervisor
Licensed Marriage and Family Counselor.
Senior Professor, Marriage and Family Therapy Department, School of Psychology, Fuller Theological Seminary, 2004-present.
Professor of Marriage and Family Therapy and Director of Clinical Training, School of Psychology, Fuller Theological Seminary, 2002-2004.
Associate Professor of Marriage and Family Therapy Department, School of Psychology, Fuller Seminary, 1993-2002.
Assistant Professor of Marriage and Family Therapy Department, School of Psychology, Fuller Seminary, 1987-1993.
Director of Practicum, Marriage and Family Ministries, School of Theology, Fuller Theological Seminary, 1982-1983.
Temporary Assistant Professor, Department of Child and Family Development, University of Georgia, Athens, GA 1978-1979.
Administrative Assistant Professor, University Housing Department, University of Georgia, Athens, GA 1977-1978.
Counselor, Graduate Assistantship, University Health Services, University of Georgia, Athens, GA. 1975-1976.
Career Counselor, University Testing and Evaluation Center, University of Georgia, 1974-1975.
Director and Counselor, Veterans’ War Orphan Program, University of Iowa, 1963-1964.

Books Published

Book Chapters

Articles

This material is provided in detail in the hope that some parts of it may be of use in each specific publicity situation or introduction. It is suggested the above not be used in its entirety.