

ALEXIS D. ABERNETHY

Associate Provost for Faculty Inclusion Equity and Professor of Psychology, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BS, Howard University; MA and PhD, University of California at Berkeley

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Spirituality and health, cancer screening and religiousness, psychology of corporate worship, spirituality and eating disorders, cultural competence, and group psychotherapy

TINA R. ARMSTRONG

Director of Clinical Training and PhD Program Chair and Assistant Professor of Clinical Psychology, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BA in Theater, University of California at Los Angeles; EdM in Human Development and Psychology, Harvard Graduate School of Education; MA in Clinical Psychology, MA in Theology, and PhD in Clinical Psychology, Fuller Theological Seminary

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Community mental health, wellness and resilience in helping professionals, women of color in academia, vicarious trauma, mentorship and emerging professionals, early childhood mental health

JUSTIN L. BARRETT

Professor of Psychology, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BA, Calvin College; PhD, Cornell University

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Cognitive science of religion, psychology of religion, cognitive study of culture, positive psychology, cognitive development

JEFFREY P. BJORCK

Professor of Psychology, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BA, Colgate University; MA and PhD, University of Delaware

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Religious coping, religious support, life stress, and adjustment in adults and adolescents; ethnocultural differences in faith, support, stress, coping, and adjustment

WARREN S. BROWN

Director of the Lee Edward Travis Research Institute and Professor of Psychology, Department of Doctoral Psychology, Postdoctoral Scholar, UCLA Brain Research Institute

BA, Point Loma Nazarene University; MA and PhD, University of Southern California

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Neuropsychology and psychophysiology (including study of cognitive deficits associated with pathology of the corpus callosum and the study of EEG potentials in mental activity and psychopathology), neuroscience and philosophy (i.e., free will, wisdom, and virtue), science and faith

ALVIN C. DUECK

Distinguished Professor of Cultural Psychologies, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BA, University of Manitoba; BTh, Mennonite Brethren Bible College; MA, Appalachian State University; PhD, Stanford University

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Cultural psychology and psychotherapy, postmodernity and psychological theory, healing structures in congregations and communities, spirituality and psychotherapy, ethics and therapy, Jung and Christianity, integrative research, and indigenous psychologies

CYNTHIA B. ERIKSSON

Associate Professor of Psychology, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BA, Wheaton College; MA in Psychology, PhD in Clinical Psychology, Fuller Theological Seminary

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Trauma and posttraumatic stress disorder; missionary mental health and self-care; chronic stress and burnout in caregivers; spirituality and trauma reactions

JOEY FUNG

Assistant Professor of Psychology, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BA, University of Michigan; MA and PhD, University of California, Los Angeles

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Culture and child psychopathology; parent training programs; parent-child relations; child and adolescent anxiety; mental health care for Asian and Asian American families

BENJAMIN HOULTBERG

Associate Professor of Human Development, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BA and MA, Oral Roberts University; PhD, Oklahoma State University

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Emotion regulation and emotion socialization, parenting and emotion regulation, identity and spiritual formation with elite athletes, positive youth development in adverse circumstances, applied developmental science

SUNG H. KIM

Associate Professor of Psychology, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BA and MA, Seoul National University; PhD, University of Texas at Austin

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Statistics, psychometrics, Asian American psychology, multiculturalism, use of self in psychotherapy, psychotherapy outcome research, counseling psychology

PAMELA EBSTYNE KING

Peter L. Benson Associate Professor of Applied Developmental Science, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BA, Stanford University; MDiv, MA in Psychology, and PhD in Clinical Psychology, Fuller Theological Seminary

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Positive youth development in global context, relational developmental systems, religious and spiritual development, moral and character development, theological perspectives on development

ANNE A. TURK NOLTY

Assistant Professor of Psychology, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BS (mathematics), Davidson College; MM (mathematics), University of South Carolina; MDiv, MA in Psychology, and PhD in Clinical Psychology, Fuller Theological Seminary

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Clinical neuropsychology and assessment; resilience of humanitarian aid workers and first responders; psychocognitive sequela of cancer; sluggish cognitive tempo and working memory computerized interventions; moral education with adolescents

JENNY PAK

Associate Professor of Psychology, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BA, University of California, Los Angeles; MA, Fuller Theological Seminary; PhD, University of Southern California

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Narrative analysis, globalization, cultural transitions, parent-child relationship, identity, vocational and spiritual development, posttraumatic growth, grief, loss, pastoral and missionary care

LISSETH ROJAS-FLORES

Associate Professor of Marital and Family Therapy, Department of Marriage and Family

BA, Georgia State University; MA and PhD, Adelphi University

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Trauma, child and adolescent therapy, immigration, youth violence prevention, community engagement, cross-cultural research, Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT)

STEPHEN W. SIMPSON

Associate Professor of Psychology, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BA, Wake Forest University; MA and PhD in Clinical Psychology, Fuller Theological Seminary

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Sexuality, psychotherapy, psychopathology, depression, anxiety, marriage therapy

BRAD STRAWN

Evelyn and Frank Freed Professor of the Integration of Psychology and Theology and Chair of Integration, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BA, Point Loma Nazarene College; MAT, MA in Psychology, and PhD in Clinical Psychology, Fuller Theological Seminary

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Integration of Psychology and Christian Theology; Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy; Clinical Psychology; Body, Brain, and Theology

SIANG-YANG TAN

Professor of Psychology, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BA and PhD, McGill University, Montreal

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Cognitive-behavioral therapy of anxiety, anger, and depression; behavioral medicine/health psychology; paraprofessional/lay counseling; cross-cultural psychology and counseling; integration of psychology and the Christian faith, spiritual disciplines and mental health, the Holy Spirit and counseling, religious psychotherapy, and Christian psychology

KENNETH WANG

Associate Professor of Psychology, Department of Doctoral Psychology

BSM, National Chiao-Tung University, Taiwan; MA, Wheaton College; PhD, Penn State University

RESEARCH INTERESTS: Research design, perfectionism, cross-national (international student, sojourners, immigrants) psychological adjustment, cross-cultural and multicultural psychology, Asian and Asian American mental health