Welcome | 환영합니다 | Bienvenidos

Welcome to the 77th Commencement of Fuller Theological Seminary!

Whether you have completed your degree asynchronously, hybridly, residually, or through some combination thereof, Commencement brings us together to rejoice in what the Lord has done and to anticipate what the Lord will do in and through your life. May we testify with the psalmist: "The Lord has done great things for us, and we rejoiced" (Psalm 126:3, NRSVUE).

While we gather to worship God and confer your degrees, we also ask the Holy Spirit to move in communities around the world where people suffer, struggle, grieve, and lack justice. Some in our community have personally faced challenges and been affected by others' difficulties. In this season, as in all seasons, people live with both sorrow and joy. This marker of a season of ending and beginning is an indication of your faithfulness as a disciple of Christ Jesus and your readiness for continuing and growing leadership and service. Wherever you are led to serve and whatever you are called to do, remember that your Fuller family celebrates you and prays for you. Congratulations!

풀러 신학대학원 제77회 졸업식에 오신 것을 환영합니다!

여러분이 비대면, 하이브리드, 대면으로, 혹은 이들의 조합을 통해 학위를 취득하셨더라도, 이번 졸업식은 우리 모두가 한자리에 모여 주님께서 이루신 일을 기뻐하고, 주님께서 여러분의 삶 안에서 그리고 여러분을 통해 행하실 일들을 기대하는 뜻깊은 시간이 될 것입니다. 시편 기자가 고백한 것처럼 우리도 함께 증언하기를 바랍니다. "여호와께서 우리를 위하여 큰 일을 행하셨으니 우리는 기쁘도다"(시편 126:3, 개역개정).

우리가 하나님을 예배하고 여러분의 학위를 수여하기 위해 모인 이 자리에서, 우리는 또한 고통받고, 고군분투하며, 슬퍼하고, 정의를 누리지 못하는 전 세계의 공동체들 가운데 성령께서 역사해 주시기를 간구합니다. 우리 공동체 안에는 개인적으로 어려움을 겪거나 타인의 고통으로 인해 영향을 받은 분들도 계십니다. 이 시기에도, 언제나 그렇듯, 사람들은 슬픔과 기쁨을 동시에 안고 살아갑니다. 끝과 시작이 교차하는 이 시기는 여러분이 그리스도 예수의 제자로서 보여준 신실함과, 앞으로도 계속해서 리더십과 봉사를 이어가고 성장해 나갈 준비가 되어 있음을 보여주는 증거입니다. 여러분이 섬기도록 인도받는 곳이 어디든, 어떤 소명을 받든, 풀러 가족 모두가 여러분을 축하하며 기도하고 있음을 기억해 주시기 바랍니다. 축하합니다!

¡Bienvenidos a la 77.ª Ceremonia de Graduación del Seminario Fuller!

Ya sea que haya completado su título de manera asincrónica, híbrida, presencial o mediante alguna combinación de estas modalidades, la experiencia de la ceremonia de graduación nos reúne, para alegrarnos por lo que el Señor ha hecho y anticipar lo que el Señor hará en y a través de sus vidas. Que podamos dar testimonio junto con el salmista: "¡Grandes cosas ha hecho el Señor con nosotros! ¡Estamos alegres!" (Salmo 126:3, RVA-2015).

Mientras nos reunimos para adorar a Dios y conferirle su título, también le pedimos al Espíritu Santo moverse en comunidades alrededor del mundo donde las personas sufren, luchan, están en duelo y carecen de justicia. Algunos en nuestra comunidad personalmente se han enfrentado a desafíos y se han visto afectados/as por las dificultades de otros. En esta temporada, así como en todas las demás, las personas viven con tristeza y alegría a la vez. Este marcador de fin e inicio de temporada es un indicador de su fe como discípulo de Jesucristo y su disponibilidad para el crecimiento continuo en el liderazgo y servicio. Donde quiera que sea llamado y en cualquier área en la que haya sido llamado a servir, recuerde que su familia Fuller celebra contigo y ora por usted. ¡Felicitaciones!

The History of Fuller Theological Seminary

In the mid-1940s, radio evangelist Charles E. Fuller was reaching thousands through his popular broadcast, The Old Fashioned Revival Hour. But he dreamed of spreading the gospel even further: through a new school on the West Coast that would train young evangelists and missionaries.

Harold John Ockenga, theologian and pastor of Boston's Park Street Church, shared Fuller's vision but encouraged him to broaden it. The church needed not only evangelists, he said; it also needed pastors who were intellectually sound, culturally attuned, and solidly evangelical.

The combined vision of these two led to the founding in 1947 of Fuller Theological Seminary—named not for Charles E. Fuller but for his father, Henry Fuller. This “center for evangelical scholarship” welcomed its first class of 39 students, who met in the Sunday school rooms of Lake Avenue Congregational Church, sitting in child-sized chairs as they learned from a charter faculty of theological giants: Everett Harrison, Carl F. H. Henry, Harold Lindsell, and Wilbur Smith.

The student body grew rapidly in subsequent years, and in 1953 the seminary—with enrollment now at 250—moved to the newly constructed Payton Hall on Oakland Avenue, its first and now iconic building at the center of the Pasadena campus. In the 79 years since its founding, Fuller Theological Seminary has become a place of rich diversity and theological leadership beyond what its founders could ever have imagined. Two schools covering four major disciplines—theology, intercultural studies, psychology, and marriage and family therapy—allow Fuller to offer a full range of master's and doctoral programs to students in Pasadena, Houston, and Phoenix, as well as online to students across the country and around the world. Today, tens of thousands of Fuller graduates serve in churches and communities across the globe. And in 2021, Fuller launched its own digital learning platform, FULLER Equip, creating non-degree paths for learners in diverse vocations and allowing even more people to access the riches of Fuller's scholarship and innovation.

Yet from Charles E. Fuller's original vision until now, Fuller Seminary's core commitment has remained the same: equipping leaders with minds for thoughtful scholarship, innovative spirits for forging new paths, and hearts for the unchanging gospel of Jesus Christ.

About the Fuller Seminary Seal and Logo

Fuller Theological Seminary was founded in 1947. Its official seal was developed in 1951, at the seminary's incorporation. The seal has served ever since as a representation of Fuller's mission and purpose, used to mark institutional documents and significant events in the life of the seminary. Along with the richly meaningful symbols of the cross, shield, and crown, the seal features Hebrew text taken from Isaiah 61:1, “The Spirit of the Lord is upon me to proclaim good news.”

The refreshed Fuller Seminary logo is designed to communicate a foundation based on a long-standing biblical tradition, updated to reflect our digital-forward future. The icon is a three-paged book, the pages of which form a stylized “F” shape, reinforcing the word “Fuller” and our biblical roots. The icon evokes a feeling of movement, portraying how students take what they have learned at Fuller and share it with the world.

Out of consideration for other guests . . .

Please remain in your seat unless you find it absolutely necessary to leave the auditorium, and keep children in their seats as well. Entering the aisles to approach the stage, the graduates' seating area, or the graduates themselves as they go to the stage or return to their seats, interferes with other guests' enjoyment of the service. There will be ample opportunity for photographs after the service.

Due to fire regulations and concerns for safety, the use of camera tripods or any other such equipment cannot be permitted in any aisle or row. When using a camera of any kind, please be careful not to interfere with other guests' view.

Seats may not be saved for guests who have not yet arrived. Unoccupied seats must be available to all guests who are present.

Thank you for your kind consideration and cooperation.

Academic Regalia

Academic regalia is a modern representation of the everyday dress of both teachers and students in the early universities of the medieval era. Their long gowns and hoods were quite practical. Over time, the uniforms evolved and became more symbolic than practical. Different designs and colors were developed to identify and represent various schools and degrees.

Gowns

Fuller, like most American graduate schools, uses black gowns for both master's and doctoral degrees. The master's gown is lighter in weight and has an unusual long sleeve hanging below the wrist, with an opening for the wrist. The doctoral gown is heavier, with bell sleeves and distinctive black velvet facings and three black velvet bars on each sleeve.

Hoods

The lining of hoods identifies the institution awarding the degree; all Fuller hoods are lined with three gold chevrons on a royal blue field. Master's and doctoral hoods are distinguished by length and shape, and the width and color of their velvet trim. Doctoral hoods are longer, with wider trim and a more open design. Trim colors vary according to the degree:

Dark Blue

Doctor of Philosophy (in any area of study)

Scarlet

Master of Divinity
Master of Theology (in any area)
Doctor of Ministry (wider trim)

White

Master of Arts (in any area of study)

Golden Yellow

Master of Science in Marriage and Family Therapy
Doctor of Marriage and Family Therapy
(wider trim)
Doctor of Psychology (wider trim)

Orange

Doctor of Intercultural Studies
Doctor of Global Leadership

Caps

Fuller uses the mortarboard and black tassel for master's degrees and a six-sided tam with gold tassel for doctoral degrees.

Faculty Regalia

The Fuller faculty have received their doctoral degrees from a variety of institutions around the world, so their regalia is quite diverse. European schools and certain older and larger American schools often exhibit more variety in the colors and designs of their gowns, hoods, and caps, while most American schools, such as Fuller, follow a standardized academic costume code.
